Videonystagmography – VNG Testing

VNG testing is comprised of several small tests that are evaluated to determine the cause of dizziness or balance disorders. Prior to each test, the clinician will provide you with a brief explanation on how to perform the task. The entire test can range from 30-60 minutes long and can evoke several of the symptoms you may be experiencing. At the time of your appointment, you may be scheduled for a hearing test to better understand your auditory system. Please bring the enclosed paperwork with you to your appointment.

Requirements before Testing

To achieve the most accurate results, please follow the below directions prior to your appointment:

- 1. It is recommended that someone comes with you in case you are unable to drive after your appointment. If you are not feeling well after the appointment and do not have a driver, you will be asked to wait until feeling better before departing.
- 2. Do not take anti-vertigo or anti-nausea medicine for 48 hours. Continue to take medications for heart, blood pressure, anticoagulants, birth control, antidepressants, thyroid, or diabetes. Please contact your prescribing physician if you have questions regarding your medications.
- 3. Do not drink alcoholic beverages for 48 hours.
- 4. Eat a very light breakfast and/or lunch.
- 5. Remove all make-up or facial lotions before arrival for testing.
